ISAIAH OLIVER
Isaiah was born with a rare syndrome causing a cleft lip and palate, heart defects and developmental delays. United Way of Larimer County provides funding to local agency Respite Care for childcare scholarships for kids like Isaiah. With this funding, families pay an average of $5.62 per hour rather than the actual cost of $21 per hour for specialized care and learning programs for their young children. He is now a vibrant seven-year-old who is blooming thanks to the support of United Way and Respite Care.

"United Way and Respite Care have changed my family's life in a very personal way. The community has come together to help families – especially my family – thrive and gain financial stability."
- Jessica Oliver

THE JARAMILLO FAMILY
Dennis, Bethany and Bonefacio Jaramillo lived in a hotel for more than a year after Dennis became disabled and could no longer work his manufacturing job and they lost their home. Even though Bethany was working full time, they were on the verge of living in their car. Through United Way's 2-1-1, they were connected to Neighbor to Neighbor, placed in stable housing and are now thriving. With funding from United Way, Neighbor to Neighbor helped 63 families like the Jaramillos prevent eviction just last year.

"Having stability and a safe place to rest our heads is such a huge thing. I can't believe all that Neighbor to Neighbor and United Way have done for us. Our home is everything. It's a place for all our love."
- Dennis Jaramillo
